

SAVE ROTARY WOOD - AGAIN!

WHAT IS HAPPENING?

Harrogate Spring Water (est. 2002), owned by multi-national corporation Danone, have reverted to 2017 outline planning to expand their plastic bottle plant and destroy Rotary Wood:

- 4 acres of deciduous woodland planted (2005) by the community including school children, partly to tackle 'climate change'.
- Designated Asset of Community Value; well used and loved by local residents.
- Connectivity between North and South woods, supporting biodiversity.
- Development not in line with Government climate emergency declaration.
- Not in line with Harrogate Borough Council's own Carbon Reduction Strategy, Biodiversity Action Plan, Habitat Action Plan Woodland, Species Action Plan Bats, or the Tree and Woodland Policy.
